

FINDING PENN COLONY

For first-time visitors—and others who may have lost their way—here is how you can find us. Remember—The first weekend in August is when we gather for the annual reunion.

1. Though it is not easy to find a location by street address when it is in a rural area, here it is: 71173 639 Blvd., Dawson, NE 68337.
2. If you arrive from the South, heading north on Highway 75, go about a half mile north of Dawson, turn left where the gravel side street meets the highway. The Penn Colony (long) driveway is straight ahead (west), and it's about a half-mile to the museum buildings.
3. If you arrive from the North, and you are reading highway signs, this is what you will see as you head south from the intersection of Highways 73 and 75. Turn right at the gravel road and follow that truck down the lane.

4. This overhead view may be helpful.

5. If you like to find your way using coordinates, this is where we are: 40.142206, -95.838789. Don't forget the hyphen or you'll end up in China.

And if you spot this sign, you're here!
